College_Bazaar

Buying and selling in college? Cool idea right ☺ We present to you "College_Baazar" a student community-based marketplace for all the needs of students.
It's a marketplace for the reselling of used products. For example, a huge number of students pass out every year in college and they are replaced by freshers. Pass-outs leave behind their stuff like bicycles, notes, etc. which could be extremely useful for new students. Such a platform could be used to trade general items too so that students can develop better connectivity and relations among themselves.

The main features of the website are:
1. Login Page: Students can access with the institute email ID and password.
2. Home Page: There will be various blocks each containing information about the items that owners are selling.
3. Within each block, it will contain the name of the item, price, contact details, etc.
4. On clicking the block, further details can be added and should be a working option to CHAT WITH OWNER, so that negotiations and other things can be discussed.
5. On the Home Page, there should be an option for WISHLIST so that users can go through them according to their convenience.
6. There should be a SEARCH BAR for searching for a particular product.
7. A FILTER option must also be added on the home page so that users can find the relevant products
8. On the Home Page, there should be an option of Post_Your_Item / Sell Your Product. This will take the owner to a submission form containing relevant categories for posting the items. The sub-option of adding CATEGORY/TAGS of the item must be present so that other users can sort them on the home page.

For Admins
1. There should be an option of APPROVE. This is required to monitor the kind of products that someone is selling
2. An option of DELETE is to delete a particular listing as there might be a case of fake items being sold
3. An option of BLACKLIST to block a particular user from posting any items

These three options must be visible to the admin alongside a particular listing.

P.S. Feel free to add any suitable features to the website, and bonus marks will be awarded.
